AMENDED BYLAWS
Department of Communication

Preamble: The members of the Department of Communication regard themselves as partners in an organization established to manage the academic affairs of the Department. Consistent with this viewpoint, the faculty engage in a free and open interchange of ideas regarding departmental policy.

Article 1. THE FACULTY

1.1. Composition of the Faculty

1.1.1. The regular faculty of the Department of Communication shall be composed of all persons in the Department who have been appointed under the rules of tenure and who hold the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, and instructor.

1.1.2. The fixed term faculty of the Department of Communication shall consist of all persons in the Department holding the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, and any other person appointed by the Board of Trustees, but not appointed under the rules of tenure.

1.1.3. Honorary faculty of the Department of Communication shall be those persons designated as Visiting Professors, Adjunct Professors, or Professors Emeriti.

1.2. Voting Membership of the Faculty

1.2.1. The voting faculty in the election to University councils and committees shall be all regular faculty engaged in the academic activities of the Department on a regular basis.

1.2.2. Voting membership in the Department

1.2.2.1. The voting faculty in the election to Department councils and for voting on departmental policies and decisions shall be all faculty with the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, or instructor whose academic appointment is in the Department of Communication. Any person other than those already indicated in this section may be extended voting privileges for departmental matters by a two-thirds vote of the voting membership of the Department.

1.2.2.2. The voting students in election to departmental councils and for voting on departmental policies and decisions shall be two undergraduate majors in the Department determined by procedures established by the Undergraduate Communication Association and two graduate majors in the Department representing both masters (Masters Association in Communication) and doctoral students (Association of Doctoral Students in Communication) in the department selected by procedures determined by their representative groups. These procedures shall specify selection of an alternate to sit when a student member is absent.

1.2.2.3. The voting and recommending faculty in Department faculty appointments, reappointments, promotions, and tenure actions shall consist of all full-time regular faculty members whose principal academic appointment is in the Department of Communication, and as further defined in Section 6.3.2., below. (May 16, 1978)

Delete following: Language for Bylaw amendment regarding guidance committee eligibility number following section 1.2.2.4

1.2.2.4. All individuals holding regular, full-time tenure-system appointments in the Department shall be eligible to sit on guidance committees as a communication department representative, with the single restriction that an individual shall not be eligible to sit on a guidance committee involving a more advanced degree than the individual himself/herself holds without approval by a majority vote of the regular faculty of the Department.

All individuals holding any other type of appointment (e.g., adjunct, fixed term, visiting) shall be eligible to sit on guidance committees as a communication department representative only after approval by a majority vote for the regular faculty of the Department.

1.2.3. A faculty member jointly appointed in two or more units may vote only once in a given election. In elections voted upon by two or more units the faculty member shall vote in that unit which has primary responsibility for initiating personnel action as indicated on the multiple appointment form filed in the Office of the Provost.

1.2.4. A faculty member may be elected to an academic governance body as a representative of any unit in which the person holds regular faculty status.

Article 2. THE STUDENTS

2.1. Student Constituency of the Department

2.1.1. The student constituency of the Department for the purpose of selecting student representatives from the college to University committees shall be all students who have declared with the Registrar a major or, in the case of lower division students, a major preference in an academic program administered in the Department.

2.1.2. Those students who are enrolled in graduate non-degree programs, as candidates for graduate degrees, or as candidates for graduate-professional degrees shall be deemed graduate students.

2.1.3. All other students shall be deemed undergraduate students.

2.2. Student Participation in Academic Governance

2.2.1. Student participation in Department academic governance bodies shall in all cases be in the same mode as faculty participation, except as reserved. The matters reserved to the faculty are:

2.2.1.1. Policy concerning salary, leaves, insurance, retirement, and fringe benefits of faculty.

2.2.1.2. Decisions concerning the appointment, salary, reappointment, promotion, tenure or dismissal of individual faculty members.

2.2.1.2.1. Evidence from students regarding the teaching performance of faculty shall be considered in decisions concerning the above matters.

2.2.1.3. Matters affecting the professional responsibility of the faculty to establish and maintain the intellectual authority of the University.

2.2.1.4. Decisions concerning the evaluation of progress and performance, and dismissal of graduate students. A graduate student may be represented by his or her class representative in evaluation meetings if written permission is given to the class representative by the student. The representative is without vote in decisions.

Article 3. ADMINISTRATION

3.1. Department Chairperson

3.1.1. The chairperson of the department is a faculty member who has authority and responsibility delegated by the President and the Board of Trustees for the administration of the department.

3.1.2. A department chairperson serves as the chief representative of his or her department. He or she is responsible for educational, research and service programs, budgetary matters, physical facilities and personnel matters in his or her jurisdiction, taking into account the advisory procedures of the unit. The chairperson has a special obligation to build a department strong in scholarship, teaching capacity and public service.

3.1.3. Faculty and students shall consult with the dean in the appointment of the chairperson.

3.1.3.1. The voting faculty of the department shall have shared responsibility with the dean to determine procedures for the selection of the chairperson to be nominated to the Provost.
